

My experience with Cristina changed the way I approach my life. In so many ways, she helps you constructively improve the way you generate thoughts; which generate feelings and behaviors. Her positive teachings and curriculum allows one to dig deep into personal experiences and thought processes to positively affect change.

I highly recommend anyone for her program as no matter where you are on your own personal pendulum, she will take you farther down the road to peace and understanding.